Background

The Schlegel-UW Research Institute for Aging (RIA) is a charitable non-profit organization that partners with the University of Waterloo, Conestoga College, and Schlegel Villages to enhance care and quality of life for older adults. Through engagement with key partners and collaborators, RIA supports practice-relevant research and knowledge mobilization. Research evidence is used to inform programs, education and training, and influence practice and policy.

The Ontario Centres for Learning, Research and Innovation for Long-Term Care \(CLRI\) is a program of the RIA and partners with the long-term care (LTC) sector to enhance the health and well-being of those who live and work in LTC homes. We provide programs and resources to train and engage the current and future workforce. The Ontario CLRI is funded by the Government of Ontario and hosted at Baycrest Health Sciences, Bruyère and the RIA.

Primary Purpose

The Manager will be responsible for strategic and operational leadership to a project team. The role will be accountable for the successful implementation of a variety of projects that enhance the health and well-being of older adults. As an experienced leader, you will guide a team of professionals to coordinate project activities, engage with partners, identify opportunities for partnerships and funding, and develop evidence-based resources. Additionally, you will be responsible for identifying funding opportunities, and supporting the writing and securing of new funding.

The role will support RIA's vision, mission, and values as well as have an interest and passion for enhancing quality of life and care for older adults and team members working in senior living.

Key Accountabilities

1. Leadership: Provide strategic and operational leadership to a team of people in alignment with project and organizational strategic priorities. Work closely with the funders and the broader RIA team to leverage and align work and impact and identify and secure grant funding. Work collaboratively with and provide supervision and mentorship to team members to ensure project success in alignment with RIA's culture and values.

2. Knowledge Mobilization and Partner Engagement: Provide strategic direction and support to the development of education and resources such as high-quality reports, presentations, education, fact sheets, infographics, and other knowledge mobilization products. Build and maintain partnerships with external and internal partners to support the successful implementation and delivery of various projects and in alignment with RIA goals. Ability to co-design resources and work collaboratively with older adults, health professionals and care partners with lived experience.
3. Budget management: Manage multiple project budgets. Provide regular reporting of expenditures to leadership and funding agencies, as required. Responsible for management of spending related to each project and that all spending is in alignment with RIA policies and funder guidelines. Ability to effectively source and work with consultants and vendors to ensure successful outcomes. Responsible for all funder financial reporting.
4. Communication and Reporting: Strong written and verbal communication skills with the ability to tailor messaging to diverse audiences. Present and discuss matters with partners through a variety of virtual and in-person events and meetings. Proactively report to funders, team members, and key partners on activities, and contribute to the writing and dissemination of various written products, including grant applications, technical reports, and program reports. Ability to chair or facilitate meetings and document meeting outcomes.
5. Other: Take on additional tasks, activities and special projects, as they arise.
